Introduction to Global History: Settler Colonialism, 17th c-present

This course examines the impacts of settler colonialism experienced by Native Americans and native South Africans. Settler colonialism differs from imperialism and “mere” colonialism in a variety of ways, and has profoundly different effects in the long run. This course will examine how it operated in the United States and South Africa, and analyze its impact over the course of three centuries.

Required Texts:

The following texts are available at the CU Bookstore:

Robert McCoy and Steven Fountain, History of Native Americans: Exploring Diverse Roots (2017)
Tommy Orange, There There. A Novel (2018)

Assignments and Grading:

Maps (2)--5% each

Questions and Discussions--10%

Mid-Term Exam--40%

Final Exam--40%

Each week will generally follow a regular format: I will lecture for about 50 minutes on Tuesday, and then we will discuss the reading for that week for the remaining 25 minutes of class. On Thursday, we will continue to discuss the reading for about 20 minutes and then we will see film clips that bear directly on that week’s topic (there will be some exceptions). On Tuesdays, you must turn in two questions about that week’s reading, which will serve as the basis for our discussion of the readings and the lectures.

Your final grade will be based on your performance on map assignments, in-class discussions (and the questions you’ve posed), a take-home mid-term exam, and a take-home final exam. You MUST hand in assignments on time, otherwise I will not accept them. The only possible exception is in a documented case of illness or some other extraordinary circumstance. In this situation, you must speak with me BEFORE the assignment is due. Students must complete all assignments in order to pass the course.*
Attendance is mandatory. Students missing THREE classes will have their grade reduced by one whole letter (i.e. B+ to C+).

NO ELECTRONIC DEVICES WILL BE ALLOWED IN CLASS

Disability Statement: If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit a letter from Disability Services to us in a timely manner so that your needs may be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact: 303-492-8671, Willard 322, or at: http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices/

Decorum Statement: Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Students who fail to adhere to behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Faculty have the professional responsibility to treat students with understanding, dignity and respect, to guide classroom discussion and to set reasonable limits on the manner in which students express opinions. Additional information may be found at: http://www.colorado.edu/policies/classbehavior.html

Honor Code: All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, bribery, and threatening behavior. All incidents of academic misconduct shall be reported to the Honor Code Council honor@colorado.edu; 303-725-2273). Students who are found to be in violation of the academic integrity policy will be subject to both academic sanctions from the faculty member and non-academic sanctions (including but not limited to university probation, suspension, or expulsion). Additional information can be found at: http://www.colorado.edu/policies/honor.html

Religious Observance: Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to reasonably and fairly deal with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. If you have a potential class conflict because of religious observance, you must inform me of that conflict by the third week of the semester. See policy details at: http://www.colorado.edu/policies/fac_relig.html

Sexual Harassment: The University of Colorado Policy on Sexual Harassment applies to all students, staff and faculty. Sexual harassment is unwelcome sexual attention. It can involve intimidation, threats, coercion, or promises or create an environment that is hostile or offensive. Harassment may occur between members of the same or opposite gender and between any combination of members in the campus community: students, faculty, staff, and administrators. Harassment can occur anywhere on campus, including the classroom, the workplace, or a residence hall. Any student, staff or faculty member who believes s/he has been sexually harassed should contact the Office of Sexual Harassment (OSH) at 303-492-2127 or the Office of Judicial Affairs at 303-492-5550. Information about the OSH and the campus resources available to assist individuals who believe they have been sexually harasssed can be obtained at: http://www.colorado.edu/odh/
