Biography: I have been teaching composition at the University of Colorado since 1990. I have also taught composition, literature, playwriting, and theatre arts at Front Range Community College, Regis University, and Metropolitan State College of Denver. I earned my Master's degree in Literature and Language from CU in 1989. I have published three textbooks for Thomson Learning/Wadsworth Publishing: The Art of Writing about Art, Thinking and Writing in the Humanities, and Writing about Theatre and Drama, now in its second edition. I love teaching, writing, and attending the theatre and hope to pass some of that enthusiasm on to you.

Course Objectives: The purpose of the course is to instruct students in the art and craft of producing clearly written analytical and argumentative essays in any discipline. The top for writing in this class is theatre and drama.

Textbooks: Writing about Theatre and Drama, by Suzanne Hudson
Othello, by William Shakespeare
Machinal, by Sophie Treadwell

*Please bring Writing about Theatre and Drama to class every day.

Attendance: Students will earn points toward a final grade for attendance, punctuality, and participation. The evaluation policy is constructed to accommodate the occasional absence, as it is understood that even the most dedicated student cannot always be in attendance. Students are not required to call or email me if they will be absent, or to present me with excuses, as none are needed. I assume that if the student is absent, it is for a good reason. The student must also be aware, however, that frequent absences, no matter how valid the reason, will negatively affect his or her grade.

Late Submissions: I accept late assignments; however, any reading response or homework assignment that is late will earn no more than half credit. Essay grades will be lowered by a letter grade for every class day they are late.
Essays: Each essay will be written expressly for this class and will be 1,250 to 1,500 words in length. Each essay must have undergone at least two peer reviews to be acceptable.

Special Assignment: Students must attend one performance of Machinal, produced by the CU Theatre and Dance Department, showing November 17-19.

Evaluation: Final grades will be calculated as follows:

Attendance (1), punctuality (1), and participation (1):
3 pts. x 30 days = 90 pts.
Peer reviews: 5 pts. x 16 peer reviews = 80 pts.
Homework assignments: 20 pts. x 6 assignments = 120 pts.
1st paper: 200 pts.
2nd paper: 250 pts.
3rd paper: 260 pts.

TOTAL POSSIBLE POINTS 1,000 pts.

A = 900-1,000 pts.
B = 800-899 pts.
C = 700-799 pts.
D = 600-699 pts.
F = below 600 pts.

Grading Criteria for Papers

A: A paper that is exceptional in form and content: original, substantive, insightful, well-organized, clear, graceful, error-free. It is written in the assigned mode of discourse, and information gleaned from sources is properly documented.

B: A clearly written, well-developed, interesting paper that shows above-average thought and writing craft. No major flaws but too many minor ones to merit an A.

C: A readable, reasonably well-organized paper that supports a focused thesis satisfactorily. May have unresolved problems in presentation and distracting grammatical errors and stylistic flaws. A mixture of strengths and weaknesses. A paper that fulfills the basic requirements of the assignment, but says little of interest.

D: A paper seriously deficient in content, form, style or mechanics. It may be disorganized, illogical, confusing, unfocused, or contain pervasive errors that impair readability.

F: A paper that is incoherent, inappropriate, or has not undergone at least two peer reviews.

Plagiarism: A plagiarized paper will earn the plagiarizer an F for the entire course.
Disabilities: If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit to me a letter from Disability Services in a timely manner so that your needs may be addressed. Disability services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities (303-492-8671, Willard 322, www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices).

Religious Observances: Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to reasonably and fairly deal with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. Please let me know of your needs in a timely manner so that I may accommodate them. See full details at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/fac_relig.html

Behavior: Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Students who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Faculty have the professional responsibility to treat all students with understanding, dignity and respect, to guide classroom discussion and to set reasonable limits on the manner in which they and their students express opinions. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, culture, religion, politics, sexual orientation, gender variance, and nationalities. Class rosters are provided to the instructor with the student's legal name. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the semester so that I may make appropriate changes to my records. See polices at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/classbehavior.html and at http://www.colorado.edu/studentaffairs/judicialaffairs/code.html#student_code
